

The Home care guideline was developed in accordance with the process and methods set out in the social care guidance manual.

Search strategies

The evidence reviews used to develop the guideline recommendations were underpinned by systematic literature searches. The aim of the systematic searches was to comprehensively identify the published evidence to answer the review questions developed by the Guideline Development Group and NICE Collaborating Centre for Social Care.

The search strategies for the review questions (based on the scope) were developed by the NICE Collaborating Centre for Social Care in order to identify empirical research and systematic reviews. Search strategies are listed at the end of this appendix.

Searches were based upon retrieving items with the setting or intervention of "home care" and either one or more of the population groups of "older people, 65 years and over", "carers", "workforce" and "social care organisation". Searches were developed using subject heading and free text terms, aiming to balance sensitivity and precision, and the strategy was run across a number of databases. The searches limited results to studies published from 2000 onwards. Following the running of the searches, it was decided to only use evidence from 2004 onwards. Studies published between 2000 and 2003 were then removed from the set prior to screening by title and abstract of the search results. An update of these searches was undertaken during November 2014 in order to identify any recently published controlled trials, comparison studies, or systematic reviews. The database searches were not restricted to specific geographical areas, however, in selecting the websites to search, research on people's views was focused on the UK. The sources searched are listed below. Citation searches using Google Scholar, were undertaken on six relevant controlled trials and comparison studies in order to identify further studies of this type.

Guideline Development Group members were also asked to alert the NICE Collaborating Centre for Social Care to any additional evidence, published, unpublished or in press, that met the inclusion criteria. Other sources of literature included scoping materials and a NICE guideline currently in development which focuses on the social care of older people with complex care needs and multiple long-term conditions. Details of the contribution of these studies are shown in the flowchart presented as Figure A1.

Economic evidence was searched for as part of the wider search strategy. In addition, the following economic databases were searched: the NHS Economic Evaluation Database (NHS EED); EconLit, IDEAS repec and the Cost-effectiveness analysis registry (CEA Registry).

The bibliographic database searches were undertaken between November 2013 and December 2013. Website searches were undertaken during January 2014. Update searches of databases were undertaken during November 2014 which addressed only the research questions on effectiveness, for which evidence elicited from previous searches had been relatively limited.

Update searches:

The bibliographic database searches were re-run during November 2014, except for CEA registry and IDEAS repec. The results were put into an Endnote database and searches were undertaken within the database (see below) to identify controlled trials and other comparison studies, or systematic reviews. This yielded 1417 records once duplicates were removed.
