		I have been working with Mobius as a consultant to support their implementation of a new admin and clerical model which develops a new role of patient pathway coordinator as an alternative to the multiple other traditional roles like medical secretaries, booking clerks, etc. This follows on some work we did on initiating and implementing this at Newham (where I was working several years ago). My role has been just to describe what we did and how we did it at Newham as I believe it is a model with potential to improve care and quality. On average this has involved a day every two months. I have been paid directly for this. Mobius as a company have been working with Trusts to support implementation of the model. I am not involved in that work.
